New ANCO® Profile™ Wipers Engineered to Help Millions of Consumers Affordably Upgrade to Latest Blade Technology

Southfield, Michigan, July 25, 2011...Federal-Mogul (NASDAQ: FDML) has introduced a broad new line of innovative and affordable profile-style replacement wiper blades engineered to help millions of vehicle owners upgrade to the latest wiper technology for improved visibility and driving safety.

New ANCO® Profile™ blades are available as easy-to-install upgrades for vehicles currently equipped with conventional wipers as well as direct-fit replacements for vehicles originally equipped with profile wipers. The new Profile line's advanced technology covers virtually every passenger vehicle with just 22 part numbers.

"Many consumers are looking for proven ways to improve their driving visibility and safety, and they recognize the performance benefits of profile wipers," said Mike McKee, product director, service products, Federal-Mogul. "The ANCO brand now offers these consumers an easy, affordable way to upgrade to that latest and best wiper technology."

Available in lengths ranging from 14 to 28 inches, ANCO Profile wipers feature an advanced one-piece design developed to deliver more effective blade-to-windshield contact for excellent wipe quality and improved visibility in even the most challenging weather conditions. Each Profile blade is equipped with a precisely engineered wiping element featuring Federal-Mogul's exclusive DuraKlear™ natural rubber compound, which helps deliver a consistent, clear wipe throughout the life of the blade.

ANCO Profile wipers for vehicles currently equipped with conventional blades also feature the patented ANCO KwikConnect Installation System™, which helps ensure quick and easy wiper blade replacement on any covered application.

Consumers who want to learn more about ANCO Profile wipers can simply use a properly equipped “smart” phone to scan the “Quick Response” code on the product package. They will automatically be connected to the ANCO Profile page on the all-new www.ANCOWipers.com website.

For more information regarding new ANCO Profile wiper blades and other world-class ANCO products, please contact your ANCO supplier or Federal-Mogul representative, or visit the new www.ANCOWipers.com website.
